Winter Solstice pt2: Avatar Roku

Travelling in haste they head to the temple. But the Temple Fire Sages refuse to let him in. Escaping after a brief ugly fight, they rush towards the temple, only to find the doors closed.

After a few mishaps, they get the doors open and Aang finally gets to talk to Roku. Roku warns him that Sozin's comet is coming back and that Ozai, the current Firelord, will use it to finish what was started.

Hearty Thursdays at Hillside

Every Thursday, 3pm
30 North Road, N7 9GJ

Each week, our wonderful members will be cooking a different delicious free meal to take away for those struggling with the cost of living. Halal, Kosher and vegetarian options are available.

The number of meals we have to give out are limited, but those who don't receive one will be prioritised for the next week and will be given information about alternative organisations who can help with food and the cost of living.

Winter Solstice: The Spirit World pt1

Flying towards the north of woodland heavily burnt like a wound. They land and are greeted by silence. A stranger approaches asking if the Avatar can help against an angry forest spirit called Hei Bai.

That night at the village Aang comes face to face with Hei Bai and loses. But during the fight, Aang somehow enters the spirit world and cries out to Roku for help. But what comes is Roku's animal guide Fang to show Aang what is coming and where to go to talk to him. But to talk to Roku he must travel to his temple, the only problem is the temple is on Crescent Island, but that's in the Fire Nation.

The Warriors of Kyoshi

The gang travel to the island called Kyoshi, named after one of Aang previous lives - Kyoshi, an Earth Bender. Here we also meet Suki, a Kyoshi warrior. Don't get carried away with fame.

The King of Omashu

Travelling to the earth kingdom of Omashu we meet another one of his oldest friends from his past Bumi, who is now the King who gives Aang some important and valuable lessons. To think outside the box.

Imprisoned

Katara helps a group of earth benders trapped on a floating prison escape their captors. Deals with what it's like being trapped in your own mind.

STUART LOW TRUST REVIEW

Stuart Low was a young man who sadly took his own life in 1997, after failing to find the help he needed to cope with schizophrenia. His death prompted local people to form The Stuart Low Trust. Their aim was to create social therapeutic activities for vulnerable local people.

Most of the activities take place in the evenings or at weekends, when people may be at their lowest ebb and many services are closed.

The SLT aims to ensure that local people, especially those experiencing social isolation or mental distress, have access to the support they need for better health and wellbeing.

The SLT is inclusive, welcoming and friendly, promoting a culture of volunteering, working with local partners, being effective and efficient, offering encouragement, support and opportunity. The SLT provides safe spaces and community activities focusing on wellbeing, arts and nature.

JAKE ARNOLD

Here, I've given a small overview of the episodes, so you can get a general sense of what to expect.

The Boy in the Iceberg / The Avatar Returns

We travel to the South Pole to meet two young characters Sokko, elder brother to Katara, a young Water Bender who on a hunting trip accidentally frees Aang from his ice prison. The Avatar has returned. Now we meet Prince Zuko, a banished prince searching for the Avatar to regain his honour, with his esteemed Uncle Iroh, former General of the Fire Nation Armies. The Avatar has returned.

Southern Air Temple

We meet Momo the flying Lemur for the first time, we also meet Commander Zhao, the main villain of this Book. In the temple they see statues of his Aang's past selves and one in particular Avatar Roku. Now he must deal with the loss of his best friend.

REVIEW PART 1 - AVATAR: THE LAST AIRBENDER

This is an animated series that will appeal to people of all ages. It is one of my favourites and many layers that will keep you coming back for more. You will find more each time you watch. There are many themes that are covered in this series, such as Genocide, Death, Love and Redemption - all this and more in a cartoon series made for children.

It tells the story of a young boy named Aang, the last airbender, who ran away from his responsibilities and in doing so set in motion events that will reverberate throughout this series.

Fire Lord Sozin, the ruler of the Fire Nation, launched an Genocidal attack against the Air Nomads, knowing that the next Avatar will be a Air Nomad. With the help of a comet that enhanced their fire wielding abilities, he launched a war that has lasted 100 years.

Wellbeing Programme

An example of the WP is the Friday evening event. This runs 52 weeks a year and provides an opportunity to socialise with nutritious refreshments and a different presentation or performance each week. For example, a busker, a comic or someone giving a talk on benefits.

One participant said, "I arrived tentative, but on leaving I felt refreshed, hopeful, rejuvenated, deeply grateful and thankful"

Arts Programme

The Arts Programme includes painting, visits to art galleries and a poetry corner, where people can read out their favourite poems and listen to others reading theirs.

A service user said that "It's such a wonderful atmosphere, so conducive to creativity".

JAKE ARNOLD

As part of the nature programme, SLT has its own garden plot in Culpeper Gardens, near the Angel, where they can express themselves and experience nature at first hand.

In 2018, SLT produced a report about how effective they are at supporting people:

- 86% believe that SLT has helped them to become or feel healthy.
- 86% believe that SLT has helped them to experience greater wellbeing.
- 85% believe that SLT has helped them to meet people in an enjoyable way.
- 83% believe that SLT has helped them to look forward to enjoying things.
- 83% believe that SLT has helped them to feel less isolated.

One user said of SLT's activities in general "it is the only place I have looked forward to going to in my life. I have a definite skip in my step on the way there".

JAKE ARNOLD

Good ways to start - My top tips

- Have a gym induction. This will look at your fitness levels, any injuries, show you how to use the equipment and give you a personalised programme. It also makes sure you don't hurt yourself or pull muscles and you get the best out of your workout. It is safer.
- Find a friend to go with you. You can motivate each other.
- Start slowly and be realistic, otherwise you are more likely to hurt yourself

Diet and supplements

I try to eat a lot of protein and vegetables, mainly chicken and fish. I do not really eat a lot of red meat or pork. I include a lot of fruit in my diet. This consists of my favourite fruits like grapes, bananas and oranges.

I take a protein shake before and after working out, alongside amino acids and creatine. I only take these supplements when I am working out.

What do I do at the gym?

When I go to the gym I enjoy doing free weights, especially:

- Dumbbells curls
- Flys
- Presses with dumbbells
- Bench press
- Shoulder shrugs
- Hammer curls with dumbbells
- Lunges
- squats

I also enjoy using these machines most:

- Chest press machine
- Leg press machine
- Leg extension

What made me to go to the gym?

I started going to the gym when I was twenty-seven. My GP suggested it as a way to get healthy and to help my damaged back. I have been going on and off for many years. I enjoyed going to the gym straight away and would recommend it to keep healthy and release endorphins.

DANNY MAKEPEACE

Here are some of many of SLT's external achievements:

- London Health Commission Award for mental well-being in 2010
- One of three featured charities in the Cripplegate foundation's 'Unlocking the Potential: Volunteers in Islington' report in 2010
- Queen's Award for voluntary service in 2015
- SLT volunteers recognised at the voluntary action Islington awards in 2016
- Healthy London workplace charter in 2017
- Team London Award 2018
- The British Medical Journal chose the trust as its small charity for 2014 and has then repeated it every year.

What does my average week look like?

I go to the gym four times a week, doing two days where I go to the gym followed by one day off. An average week would be going on Monday and Tuesday at 8.30am and then again on Thursday and Friday at 8:30am.

Monday: A light full body workout with super sets of light weights and some cardio.

Tuesday: Chest and triceps with Heavy weights. I do a heavy workout which would be for one or two body parts.

Wednesday: Day off

Thursday: Light body work out with supersets - lots of repetitions with lighter weights. When I do my shoulders routine, I do dumbbell lateral raises, shoulder press, cable front raises and shoulder shrugs.

Friday: Legs. Machines, walking lunges and smith machine - sometimes I do an all-body workout instead.

Saturday & Sunday: Day off.

MY FITNESS REGIME

I enjoy going regularly to the gym and wanted to talk about what I do there and share some of my tips with you. I find the gym is really good for my mental health.

Why is going to the gym good for you?

Going to the gym keeps me fit. I've read that exercise releases endorphins which makes me feel good and are good for my mental health. Going to the gym also helps me get me out of the house, to have a routine and structure. It helps my mental as well as physical health. It helps to reduce my stress and anxiety too.

I had a photo taken with Matt, a lovely talented bloke, as is John Plain, who wasn't there on the night, although his son was. The Boys were brilliant on the night, playing all my favourite tracks: First time Out (1977), Sick on You (1977), I Don't Care (1977) and their chart single, Brickfield Care (1978).

The Boys first formed in 1976 and their first gig was at The Hope & Anchor in Islington on the 15th October 1976. They're also known as The Yobs, Boys spelt backwards. Their first album, self-titled The Boys, was released in 1977 and their second album, titled Alternative Chartbusters, came out in 1978. To promote it, they toured with The Ramones in 1979.

I've been told I am also in their new video, which is an honour because they're such a great band. They finished with Living in the City and Sick on You. Another great gig. If you get a chance to see The Boys, you definitely won't be disappointed.

Matt on stage, binging the house down.

THE BOYS AT THE 100 CLUB

What a gig! The Vulz were on when I first got there, they sounded just like The Jam. Then came The Boys!

The front and back cover of our second single, Hawaii Five O, produced by Matt Dangerfield.

I met Matt Dangerfield, the guitarist of The Boys, in 1980, when I approached him to produce our second single, Hawaii Five O, at The Music Machine, which he produced for a case of lager. The recording company fresh were shocked, as they thought it would cost a lot money to get him to produce for us.

Food Support in Islington

This is the first time I've seen 999 live, but I've been a fan since 1977. The band have put out hit after hit, with tracks like Nasty! Nasty!, Emergency, Homicide, Alright with The Crew, No Pity and Feelin' to mention only a few. I also had a photo or two with Nick Cash, who does vocals and guitar. A great night had it all.

Above: Nick Cash onstage with 999. Below: Me with Nick Cash

Noel Martin and Steve Tannett produced our first single "My Friends" and Noel also managed us and got us our first deal with Fresh Records.

999 AND MENACE LIVE

Another great night at The 100 Club. First on was The Bottlekids, a rock and roll band from the 50s and early 60s. They went down really well with the crowd.

Noel Martin, the Menace Front Man.

Second on was the 1976 punk band Menace who played a brilliant set, with songs like Screwed Up, I Need Nothing, GLC and Last Years Youth. There was even a stage invasion for the last two songs. I've been a fan and a roadie for Menace since 1978, and friends with the guitarist, Steve Tannett, who's no longer with the band since 1971.

The music itself was rhymed fast and went together with extremely fast drums and vocals, often concentrating on vulgar subjects or to protest against injustice. Other bands from this era are Abrasive Wheels, The Straps, Bow Wow Wow and Theatre of Hate. There was a film made about The Sex Pistols called The Great Rock and Roll Swindle.

The Anarchos didn't sell out to the state because they were serious about obtaining utopia. Crass records sold bands' singles that came out of their label for next to nothing. Many anarcho bands played community centres and they were very cheap to get into. This punk scene spread across the nation like wildfire adopting outfit music lingo and many other branches of life-style. On the commercial side, at the same time as The Sex Pistols, some names that came on the scene were: The Exploited, Discharge, Vice Squad and Killing Joke. They also had branches of life-style.

THE PUNK ROCK POGO

Crass came to mind after I heard their music and liked it by getting into the scene (anarcho-punk). I also came across the commercial side called punk rock.

From when I was born to when the scene came out in Britain with bands like The Sex Pistols, The Damned and The Clash, particularly the 80s revival of the side of the scene with bands like The Exploited, Discharge, Chaotic Discord and The Partisans that I chose to listen to. They were still pogoing (the dance up and down) that sprung out from The Sex Pistol days.

The outfits included trousers with lots of zips on them, t-shirts of the bands, leather jackets with studs, painted colour band names and lots of badges to wear because they were so into it.

Our day was absolutely wonderful. Staff, members and friends who wanted to march met at Clubhouse, then travelled to Mayfair where we met up with other colleagues and friends who had travelled from other parts of London. The Pride March experience was full of fun and joy, supported by the thousands of people who lined the streets cheering and waving as we walked along the parade route.

Kevan and Sam waving the LGBT+ flag and enjoying the Pride celebrations!

Such a fantastic day was had by all... let's hope this is the first of many more public events where we can promote Hillside and our pride in supporting our members inclusively

One Team, One Community, One Love.

The 2023 theme was 'Never March Alone' in support of trans and non-binary allyship through 600 LGBT+ groups which attended the parade. 2023 also marks 51 years since the first march for LGBT+ rights in the capital back in 1972.

This year, the parade began at midday and ran from Hyde Park Corner, through Piccadilly Circus, down Haymarket and along Pall Mall to Trafalgar Square, culminating at Whitehall Place.

DO YOU NEED HELP GETTING TO PLACES?

HAND IN HAND is a new Volunteer Peer Buddying Service that will help Islington residents who experience mental health difficulties to get to other locations for appointments, courses, green spaces, and events.

The Buddies can remind you of an appointment, accompany you to appointments, events and activities that you would otherwise struggle to attend. They provide you with support and friendly encouraging conversation en route to the activity and give information about accessing other support services.

The peer travel buddies are fully trained and DBS cleared, but they do not provide therapy or specialist support.

They will meet you at your door or convenient location, but cannot come into your home. Their role is primarily in connecting, accompanying, reminding and reassuring.

WANT TO BE A PEER BUDDY?

A new programme that will train and support volunteers to accompany local people in Islington with mental health issues to appointments, services, activities and events.

We are looking for Peer Buddies to offer at least a day a week to:

- Remind people of appointments.
- Support people by helping them travel to appointments that they would struggle to get to on their own, and being with them to provide support and reassurance.
- Help others by providing conversations that are reassuring, friendly and helpful.
- Assist in linking others by offering information and signposting to local services and activities.

What you will gain volunteering as Peer Buddies:

- Opportunities to improve work related planning, service and communication skills and get training on how to be a Peer Worker. Links into local employment specialists for employment support and advice to find paid roles.
- Gain confidence and work readiness through volunteering in your community.
- An up-to-date reference. Advice and support to assist with your role.

For several months we've been planning how we want to present ourselves at this event, attending meetings with the London Pride organisers, through to designing our very own 3 metre banner, T-shirts and placards. The run up to Pride Month has been a busy time in the creative workshops we run on Monday and Friday afternoons.

Our Pride banner and placards were carefully created and embellished by our members creative art group.

On Friday the 30th June (the day before the march) we hosted a full-day creative workshop where members and staff joining the parade, were able to customize their very own Hillside Pride T-Shirts.

This year's "Hillside Rainbow" instillation was created by our members in our Friday knitting group, which is currently displayed in the centre.

HILLSIDE AT PRIDE

Hillside Clubhouse members marching in the 2023 London Pride Parade

Saturday 1st of July saw huge crowds turned out for Pride in London with over 30,000 people taking part in a colourful parade through the capital. A very special day for Hillside Clubhouse as this was our very first Pride event, where we promoted our mental health charity and our support of the LGBT+ community.

MINDFUL COLOURING

Research suggests that mindful colouring, as with meditation and art therapy, can provide numerous benefits for all ages. Along with providing a much-needed break and the chance to relax and refocus, it can help to lift your mood, decrease anxiety and reduce stress.

Colouring has the ability to relax the fear centre of your brain, the amygdala. It induces the same state of mind as meditating, through reducing the thoughts of a restless mind. This generates mindfulness and quietness, which allows your mind to get some rest after a long and stressful day.

Multiple studies have shown that colouring can reduce depression - the simple act of colouring a picture can be quite beneficial. One popular way to do this is to colour and use it as a form of meditation.

Seven good reasons why colouring is good for you:

1. Your brain experiences relief by entering a meditative state.

2. Stress levels have the potential to be lowered.

3. Negative thoughts are expelled as you take in positivity.

4. Focusing on the present helps you achieve mindfulness.

5. Unplugging from technology promotes creation over consumption.

6. Colouring can be done by anyone, not just artists or creative types.

7. It's a hobby that can be taken with you wherever you go.

Have a go at the picture opposite and be expressive with your colours.
